Where Do We Go?

Sumo Cyco

Could've been a soldier
But I march out of time
Could've been a lawyer
But can't tell a lie
Yeah
Could've been a stranger
Next to you in bed
Yeah
Could've been the one
To wield the weapon
That knocked you deadPower! Feel my might
Cower! At my sight
Tower! To new heights
Your wrong is always right!I feel your power trip the switch
I'm in the way of your fistLie to me, let me down
Where do we go now?
Lift me up, let me drown
Where do we go now?Yeah
Could've been your neighbor
Live life in sin
Yeah
Could've been the one kidnapped your son
Dug the hole, threw the body in
Yeah
Could've been a judge
Sitting on a throne
Yeah
Could've been the one
The only surgeon
That could save your soulYour hesitation man, in my company
You're nervous of my glance
Wary of my schemePower! Feel my might
Cower! At my sight
Tower! To new heights
Your wrong is always right!
Lie to me, let me down
Where do we go now?
Lift me up, let me drown
Where do we go now?

Lie to me, let me down!
Lift me up, let me drown
Where do we go now?
Your conscience plays an awful game
And ties your hands in knots
And may display a dreadful case
Of stirring in your thoughts
Hey what you say? What you gonna say now?
Stray from the play and you're gonna go down
Steer of your fear and you might just get out
Hey what you say? What you gonna say now?
Stray from the play, what you gonna say now?
Hey what you say? What you gonna say now?
Stray from the play and you're gonna go down
Steer of your fear and you might just get out!
And it's so easy to say!
I'm your vice this time
I feel your power trip the switch
I'm in the way of your fist
Lie to me, let me down
Where do we go now?
Lift me up, let me drown
Where do we go now?
Lie to me, let me down!
Lift me up, let me drown
Where do we go now?
Where do we go now?
