

Falling

Keri Noble

Standing here outside your door
Not sure if you're home
Wondering if I'm a fool
Maybe I should go Usually I'm fearless
But I've become undone
A clown without even a disguise
Now everyone will know that I've Fallen, fallen, I've fallen in love
And I can't make sense of it Don't know how this happened
I can't say for sure
But suddenly I'm incomplete
Sustaining on the hope If you meet me face to face
You can hear my heart
You might feel this terrifying
Something rising up and you've Fallen, fallen, you've fallen in love
And you can't make sense of it
And you've fallen in love
And you can't make sense of it
