

Once In A Lifetime

DragonForce

Dark clouds and thuderstorms in the fires and flames were born
Through darkness travelling on the night
Hellfires and rain will fall time is coming for us all
Our journey for the guiding light Firelight it is burning so bring in the dark of the night
As we fight for the glory tonight there's nowhere to hide
On the wings of your destiny brings all the power you crave
Carefull now if not you then who else will we save Lost in this world a total stranger
Death by the sword a common danger
You know that everything is not what it seems
March on all night forever searching
Daylight ahead is only lurking
Break through the walls and use the power of your dreams Once in a lifetime take a chance at the right time the dgolory you see
Rise up for the time of your life
Now the time has come for you to be free In minds of society we all live in harmony
Truth is that we all die in vain
You stand for what you believe
I kill for what I concieve
Is there then a title for this game Far way in the wastelands of hell full of torment and pain
Demon knights riding over the heights where fallen are slain
Violent fury of firestorming death now no life will prevail
Now you live all your days in the fires of hell Lost in this world a total stranger
Death by the sword a common danger
You know that everything is not what it seems
March on all night forever searching
Daylight ahead is only lurking
Break through the walls and use the power of your dreams Once in a lifetime take a chance at the right time the glory to see...
