

Don't Look Back Now

Brooks & Dunn

He doesn't want your love
But he can't say goodbye
He's beggin' you to stay
But he can't tell you why You finally made your move
Your hand is on the door
You know the rest is hard
You've been this far before Don't look back now, he's gonna see you cryin'
You'll turn around, it happens every time
That look will always break you down
Don't look back now You pick your suitcase up
You hear him call your name
You'd give your soul to him
If things could be the same You stop and close your eyes
You grab some memories
You think of better days
But that's all history, yeah Don't look back now, he's gonna see you cryin'
You'll turn around, it happens every time
That look will always break you down
Don't look back now Don't look back now, he's gonna see you cryin'
You'll turn around, it happens every time
That look will always break you down
Don't look back now Don't look back now
Don't look back now
Don't look back now

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>