Royalty

Byron Cage

We're in the presence of royalty
It's our sovereign God and King
Here before Your throne
Bow at Your feet, worship You holy KingIt's in Your presence that I find joy
It's in Your presence that I find peace
I find rest for my soul and strength for my life
Lying here at Your feetWe're in the presence of royalty
It's our sovereign God and King
Here before Your throne
Bow at Your feet, worship You holy KingIt's in Your presence that I find joy
It's in Your presence that I find peace
I find rest for my soul and strength for my life
Lying here at Your feetIn Your presence there is fullness of joy
And in Your right hand there are pleasures forevermore
The nations sing, the people rejoice
Holy one above all, Your matchless name we will call
God we bow before You, worship You onlyWe're in the presence of royalty
It's our sovereign God and King
Here before Your thrown
Bow at Your feet, worship You holy KingWe're in the presence of royalty
We're in the presence of royalty
We're in the presence of royalty
We're in the presence of royalty
We're in the presence of royaltyWe're in the presence of royalty
We're in the presence of royalty
We're in the presence of royalty
We're in the presence of royalty
We're in the presence of royaltyWe're in the presence of royalty
It's or sovereign God and King
I find rest for my soul, strength for my life
Lying here at Your feet
