Still Life

Lararium

There's no solace in this place
So much desolation
So empty and hollow
A place of darkness and grieving
A resolution to find our way out
Wake up in this moment
I know you can hear me

We keep searching for an answer
We don't want to find
With every step we take
We sink a little further
It's just a nightmare
But we can't wake up
It's not over yet

Chaos is the only weapon
Keeping you immersed in this illusion
Coward, fear is a deadly thing

I look out and I see
The path I need to cross
The ground is crumbling beneath me
I'm going to fall
It's time to make the choice
It's time to take a step
I feel life enter me
As I take one last breath
I've been searching for something
I can't seem to find
As memories fade I decide
To leave them behind
The risk is there
I've put all on the line
Now the fear sets in
