Forgive Me

Nural

I share the burdens
Carried on the heart of one in need
Knowing I'm weighed down as well
And I don't question my direction
But intentions for this saving
Slowly losing this heartAnd now what have I done
My reach, falling short just when you needed me
And I won't bring myself to care
Forgive me, I rely on my own knowing
And we see where it's taking meI share the burdens
Carried on the heart of one in need
Knowing I'm weighed down as well
And I don't question my direction
But intentions for this saving
Slowly losing this heartNow what have I done
My reach, falling short just when you needed me
And I won't bring myself to care
Forgive me, I rely on my own knowing
And we seeThat this bridge is burning
And I don't wish to smother it, but get warm
This bridge is burning
And I don't wish to smother it, but get warmAnd now what have I done
My reach, falling short just when you needed me
And I won't bring myself to care
Forgive me I rely on my own knowing
And we seeLord, what have I done
My reach obtaining only that which could end me
So don't be caught in crossfire
Forgive me, I rely on my own knowing
And we see where it's taking me

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/