

Brother

Beth Rowley

Boy,
your my boy,
I know,
your so you,
no one can mean as much to me,
to me,

before,
years before,
I knew - yes I knew,
that the fun we had,
it will never leave,
and when you're far away I'll feel that your near me,
and when I'm laughing I will know that you can hear me, brother there's no sorrow equal to our joy,
'cos you're my boy.

And when I'm far away I will feel that you're near me,
and when I'm laughing I will know that you can hear me,
brother there's no sorrow ever equal to our joy,
brother there is no sorrow equal to our joy,
brother there is no sorrow equal to our joy,
'cos you're my boy.
