My Worst Fear

Rascal Flatts

Last night you gave me a kiss
You didn't know it but I was awake when you did
You were quiet, you were gonna let me sleep
So I just laid there pretendin' to be
You said some things you didn't know I could hear
And the words I love you never sounded so sincereIt's gonna make it hard to tell you that I'm leavin'
Now that I know just how much you care
You finally gave me one good reason not to go
Stayin' here is my worst fearThis mornin' I rolled out of bed
Recallin' all the sweet things you said
This was the day I was gonna hurt you bad
I called out your name but you didn't answer back
I searched the house to find out what was wrong
Like a ton of bricks it hit me you were goneIt's gonna make it hard to tell you that I'm leavin'
Now that I know just how much you care
You finally gave me one good reason not to go
Stayin' here is my worst fearAll along I knew that there was somethin' missin'
(There was somethin' missin')
And only one thing left to do
I had to leave behind this life that we'd been livin'
But the only thing that there was youIt's gonna make it hard to tell you that I'm leavin'
(Hard to tell you that I'm leavin')
Now that I know just how much you care
You finally gave me one good reason not to go
But bein' alone is my worst fear
And stayin' here is my worst fear
