

Masterpiece Theatre I

Marianas Trench

First it comes on quiet creeping slow
Clever words and phrases only stain
I remain so lost and buried under everything that I need
When all I want is here I've been here so very long and every word is calculated
Never questioned or debated
All these practice poses I could wreck it if I had to
But I'm the wreck so what would that do? My masterpiece will fall apart
It was over before the start If I burn out and slip away
This is just a part I portray and this is just a part I portray
You're beautiful, can I hide in you a while?
This is just a part I portray and this is just a part I portray They keep mostly to themselves
Don't make a sound in case they hear you, it only hurts me to be near you
Keep those tired eyes closed
Careful follow my instruction and I will show you self-destruction This masterpiece is only mine
Entirely guilty by design If I burn out and slip away
This is just a part I portray and this is just a part I portray
You're beautiful, can I hide in you a while?
This is just a part I portray
Can I hide in you a while? I just can't let it, let it out, no I just can't let it out
I just can't let it, let it out, no I just can't let it out
I just can't let it, let it out, no I just can't let it out
I just can't let it, let it out, no I just can't let it out This is just a part I portray
You're beautiful, can I hide in you a while?
You're beautiful If this is just a part I portray
If this is just a part I portray
I don't know how it got this way
