You Dirty Rat

Letters to Cleo

You never write
You never call
You just stand around and smile so happily Look, I'm a man. You never knew. There's worser things that you have done to me.Well I should cry but I've done too much already I can't lie cause you're better then, than I'll ever be and that won't take us back to you and me being all alone.You call me names and you're never home all I've got to show is a kiss and drum You talk too much but not to me there's too much of this love I've never seenbut I should cry but I've done too much already I can't lie
cause you're better then, than I'll ever be
and it won't take us back to you and me being all in loveYou dirty rat you broke my heart I can't believe it went this far turn off the heat. blow out the sparkNow I gotta say what I have said I look alive but I feel dead but as for us are still good friends?
NO NO NOwell I should cry... but I've done too much already
I can't lie
cause you're better then, than I'll ever be
being all aloneYou dirty rat I gotta say you sure know how to wreck my day turn off the sun and walk awayand now I know just what to find and now its you who's next in line but as for us it was the best of times
