

I Wouldn't Trade Christmas

Frank Sinatra

I wouldn't trade Christmas, no, no, no, never would I
Wouldn't trade Christmas, I love you the best
I wouldn't trade Christmas, no, no, no, never would I
Wouldn't trade Christmas, I love you the best
It's time for the holly
The fun and the folly
And all of that jolly jazz
The people are glowing
The sand is now howling
Each window is showing it has
All the latest in choicings
The daddy [Incomprehensible]
And all of that razzmatazz
But I wouldn't trade Christmas
Wouldn't trade Christmas for New Year's Eve
Thanksgiving, Halloween and the rest
Christmas we love you the best
I wouldn't trade Christmas, no, no, no, never would I
Wouldn't trade Christmas, I love you the best
The traffic gets poky
The turkey gets smoky
And all of that holy stuff
The people are shopping
For things they'll be swapping
Like filigree boxes of snuff
So you pour the hot toddy to toast everybody
But can't pour the toddy enough
But I wouldn't trade Christmas
Wouldn't trade Christmas
For Father's Day or Mother's Valentine and the rest
Christmas we love you the best
I wouldn't trade Christmas, no, no, no, never would I
Wouldn't trade Christmas, we love you the best
The jingle bells jingle you feel the old tingle
You buy the [Incomprehensible]
The idea is clever but subways will never Quite handle that huge evergreen
And the old office party with Stanley and Marty
Keep drinking until they turn green
But I wouldn't trade Christmas
Wouldn't trade Christmas for Labor Day
Or Easter, Washington and the rest
Christmas we love you the best
I wouldn't trade Christmas, no, no, no, never would I
I wouldn't trade Christmas, no, no, no, never would I
I wouldn't trade 'cause we love you the best
