

Silence the Sea

Scan the Sky

I never learned to apologize
But its no worse then your apathetic lies
Your plan hasnt been slowed down yet
But the worst is yet to comeCant you see this?
Cant you feel this?
All falling away with every day that goes by
Why do the blind the lead the blindOf bad intentions, your eyes are tunnel visioned
If only you could see the world through my eyes
Only hearing the words that you want to hear
You cant predict this coming
So silence the sea,
With your thoughts and reason
But natures unpredictable
Much like meLike me
Silence
Youll never knowAnalyzing and Criticizing
The strongest of opinions hold the weakest of hearts
So I move my pawn and wait for hours
To finally hear you agree,
Check MateOf bad intentions, your eyes are tunnel visioned
If only you could see the world through my eyes
Only hearing the words that you want to hear
You cant predict this coming
So silence the sea,
With your thoughts and reason
But natures unpredictable
Much like meIm unpredicting, always changing
My intentions, just like you
Youll never know, you see right through me
Youll never know, I know more than youSilence what you cant keep quiet
You mean less and less to me
