Tomorrow

Sylver

Will you still love me
Tomorrow, tomorrowWhen the twilight fades
When the moon hits my eyes
My sureness degrades
My confidence diesWhere hope meets despair
The lonely eagle sings
Never aware
Of the emptiness it bringsWill you still love me tomorrow
Will you still care
Will you still need me tomorrow
Will you be there
Will you still love me tomorrow
Will you still care
Will you still need me tomorrow
Will you be thereWhen the night time calls
When darkness decides
My virtue falls in you
I confideWhere hope meets despair
The lonely eagle sings
Never aware
Of the emptiness it bringsWill you still love me tomorrow
Will you still care
Will you still need me tomorrow
Will you be there
Will you still love me tomorrow
Will you still care
Will you still need me tomorrow
Will you be there
