If (you Weren't There)

Meja

As princess of today I read too many fairytales of how I thought life would be
And now the years have gone
I realized too many things that you call reality
I am so glad I am home by the early morning breeze
I am so glad that I have all my darling friends
I wouldn

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/