

The Conversation Is...

Biffy Clyro

I wander streets at night and hope to God
To see your face
The fluorescent billboards sell a wonderful life
That doesn't exist anymore
The conversation is
The conversation is over
What will I do if I'm wrong
Will I blame it on everyone
Else like I always do?
So I'm a coward because of you
Are pills the only way
To make myself complete again?
They become the only way
To a wonderful life with a happy ending
The conversation is
The conversation is over
What will I do if I'm wrong
Will I blame it on everyone
Else like I always do?
I'm a coward because of you
I'm finding it hard to explain

Why I think that I'm right again
I'd love someone else to blame
So I'm a coward because of you
And then you try to understand
What it takes to be a man
And then you look into your heart
It defines you
What will I do if I'm wrong
Will I blame it on everyone
Else like I always do?
I'm a coward because of you
I'm finding it hard to explain
Why I think that I'm right again
I'd love someone else to blame
So I'm a coward because of you
And then you try to understand
What it takes to be a man

And then you look into your heart
It defines you
The conversation is over
The conversation is over

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnllyrics.com/>