

Everything Shines

Great Big Sea

Everything shines
Everything shines
Everything shinesHey, come this May
We'll be running in the sun again, your time will come
You're just a young broken heart
Been out sleepin' in the yard, how could you be so dumb?All we losers stand in line just waiting for our time
Broken angel, take that plane and finger paint the sky
'Til everything shines, everything shines
Everything shines, everything shinesHey broken clock
Haven't heard your old tick tocking man for much too long
And lonely jukebox
In the corner of the nightclub, man, I need your songAll we losers stand in line just waiting for our time
Broken angel, take that plane and finger paint the sky
'Til everything shines, everything shines
Everything shines, everything shinesAll we losers stand in line just waiting for our time
Broken angel, take that plane and finger paint the sky
'Til everything shines, everything shines
Everything shines, everything shines
