

God Loves You

Rachael Lampa

Just about the time that you have the whole world figured out
That would be the time that you enter in a season of doubt I'll tell you that every time those thoughts begin to enter your mind Your Father picks you up again and that's how you find out that God loves you, you know it, you know it, you know it, know it
God loves you yeah, forever and ever and ever, ever You know just how cold it feels when there's no hope left in sight
All alone and scared you pray for strength to make it through the night Remember when every turn you make just leaves you cold in the dark Light breaks through and shows you He was there all along 'Cause
God loves you, you know it, you know it, you know it, know it
God loves you, forever and ever and ever, ever You never really wanted to believe it was true
You never really thought that this could happen to you
But just as soon as you begin to throw up your hands
Your father whispers gently and then you understand God loves you, you know it, you know it, you know it, know it
God loves you, forever and ever and ever, ever Don't you know that God loves you, you know it, you know it, you know it, know it
God loves you, forever and ever and ever, ever God loves you, you know it, you know it, you know it, know it
