

Me Myself and I

Neurosonic

Me, myself, and I
For just a moment we were alive
But we were living lies
We'd been misfortuned by our minds
If all we ever know is being nothing deep down inside
We'll just walk away,
and I'm alone again, and I'm doing fine
Doing fine, doing fine I didn't want to be this way,
I'm never gonna feel the same
As the day I ran away from all this mess I left behind
We just need a little change,
It's never gonna feel the same
As the day I ran away from all this mess I left behind Me, myself, and you
We never knew it but things were right.
Then we lost hold of truth,
Look what happened to our lives.
If we can learn to cry
For better reasons than denial,
We can walk away
For something better, yours and mine.
Yours and mine, yours and mine I didn't want to be this way,
I'm never gonna feel the same
As the day I ran away from all this mess I left behind
We just need a little change,
It's never gonna feel the same
As the day I ran away from all this mess I left behind The only way we learn is burning in the flames
The only way to stop the hurt is to leave behind the pain
I'm in pain. I didn't want to be this way,
I'm never gonna feel the same
As the day I ran away, as the day I ran away
We just need a little change,
It's never gonna be the same,
It's never gonna be the same
It's never gonna be the same.
