Perspective

Seven Places

Today hasn't been the greatest day
Want to crawl back into bed
And sleep the day awayYou came over and dragged me out the door
Now the choir's singing, the preacher's preaching
It's all in the hands of the LordI'll find the sunrise in the dark skies, warmth in fiery trails
Drown in Your endless sea of love
So I can walk on water of hard times
Just keeping perspectiveMy new car broke down, just the other day
They sold me a lemon
Good thing, I like my lemonadeMy glass was half empty
But now I see it full
It's when I'm stranded and empty handed
I become dependent on YouI'll find the sunrise in the dark skies, warmth in fiery trails
Drown in Your endless sea of love
So I can walk on water of hard timesI'll find the sunrise in the dark skies, warmth in fiery trails
Drown in Your endless sea of love
So I can walk on water of hard times
Just keeping perspectiveSunrise in the dark skies, warmth in fiery trails
Drown in Your endless sea of love
So I can walk on water of hard times
Just keeping perspective, keeping perspective
