Guardian Angel

Carlene Carter

Some folks live their life not knowing
Where they've been or where they're going?
No I'm not one but I know someI've been selfish with affection
I threw it all in one direction
To turn around and then I found
The ones I loved I'd let 'em downThere must be a Guardian angelI lived my life like no tomorrow
A lot of laughs and such sweet sorrow
But most the time I took for granted
And Heaven knows somebody planned itThere must be someone watching over me
A Guardian angel guiding me
A Guardian angel just for meAbout the company I'm keeping
I slipped away while they were sleeping
I kissed the boys and made 'em cry
Oh I never stopped to say goodbyeSome folks live their life not knowing
Where they've been or where they're going?
I've been up to living it down
And Heaven knows I know how nowThere must be someone watching over me
A Guardian angel guiding me
A Guardian angel just for me
A Guardian angel watching me
A Guardian angel just for meA Guardian angel
A Guardian angel
A Guardian angel
