

Low Lands

Gojira

Tell me what you see
In the afterlife
Par dela le ciel
Par dela le soleil
And all there is to learn
The sun is on our side
And though you're on the run
You will survive Expanded to the state of light
The deepest motors of the world
Gliding through the low lands
And swimming all the oceans
Walking through this earth
Already made it through the night
There will be a new day
Whenever the sun rise You're invisible
You're in everything
Tell me what you see
Tell me what you see
When you're everywhere
When you'r everywhere
Tell me now
Tell me While you drift away from all the plates of this world
You're put out of misery
Giant bones hurt
You won't have to face it again
Every step of the way gets you higher All the voices trapped underneath the ground
Let 'em all go in the sky
Find the power lost underneath the ground
Let it all go in the sky All the voices trapped in my head
Let 'em all scream in the night
Find the power lost underneath the ground
Let it all go in the sky
