The Good Guys (Acoustic)

The Elms

Same old story, I'm totally low
Got a feeling here that I think
You know, know, know, knowI'm tired of running
And needing more time
I been way too long
On the losing side and I came to findIt's a long road for the good guys
It's a long road for a simple man
To get a helping hand
When all you got is a single shot
You do the best job that you can
'Cause it's a long road for a simple manWe're brokenhearted
And barely whole
There is little left that
We can control, oh, oh, ohAnd we get so weary
Getting blood outta stone
But you push on through
To the heart of you even though you knowIt's a long road for the good guys
It's a long road for a simple man
To get a helping hand
When all you got is a single shot
You do the best job that you can
'Cause it's a long road for a simple man
