You Won't Be Missed

Like Moths To Flames

Don't speak my name,
like it belongs in your mouth.
When everything;s the same,
I just want something else.

What makes you better than me?
If you still end up all by yourself.
What makes you think that I want to help you now?
Don't come back to me.

I'll show the world that I can finally breathe without these words.

It's just a story that goes untold.
It's just a feeling I've never known before.
I won't forgive you for this,
so just know that you won't be missed.

So, don't come back to me.
Now that you're gone, I can finally breathe again.
And I won't forget you.
These days here without you are the best that I've ever had.

So, don't come back to me.
Now that you're gone, I can finally breathe again.
And I won't forgive you for this,
so just know that you won't be missed.

What makes you better than me?
Look at the person that you've become.
I know you never tried at all.
Don't speak my name again.

It won't be long until we reach the end...

It's just a story that goes untold.
But I can breathe and there's room for me to grow.
I won't forgive you for this.
So, just know that you won't be missed.

So don't come back to me.

Now that you're gone, I can finally breathe again.
And I won't forget you.
These days here without you the best that I've ever had.

So, don't come back to me.
Now that you're gone, I can finally breathe again.
And I won't forgive you for this,
so just know that you won't be missed.

(You won't be missed.)
Don't speak my name again.
I won't forgive you.
I won't forget.

(You won't be missed.)
Don't speak my name again.
It won't be long until we reach the end...

Lyrics provided by
https://damnlyrics.com/