

Staring Faces

The Hearted

I know you care, but there is nothing left to say
Not that it matters, I'll just do it anyway
You know the words will never stop if you don't think you had enough of bombing me with sick and angry phrases I'm scared of staring faces Well, I never started out on trusting anything Always the hard way just to save myself within It took too long for me to say that it was time to go my way I'm tired of coming home on different places I'm scared of staring faces So if you see me walking down a lonely street and watch me stop and stare at the point you said we'd meet It's best to bail and leave me there and just find your luck elsewhere Well, I'd rather be alone then go through changes Cause I'm scared of staring faces
