Hope Is Gone

Moby

You look like the man I knew once or twice
So pale, so lovely, your eyes black like ice
You look like the man I've seen here before
So tired and alone with your wasted alone
Leave me now, just leave me now
Close the door, all my time's run out
Leave me now, leave me now
Time is gone, all my time's run out
You look like him, same dark black eyes
Oh, just last year I watched him die
You look like him, quiet and alive
I've left behind pain, I've left behind life
Leave me now, just leave me now
Close the door, all my time's run out
Leave me now, just leave me now
My hope is gone, all my time's run out
Leave me now, just leave me now
Hope is gone, all my time's run out
