Desiree

The Left Banke

Everything returns again both the laughter and the rain she is living somewhere for a while still I ask her in my lonely way to stay

Desiree Desiree
now she's leaving

Desiree you know
how it hurts me
living alone through all the years nothing can hold the tears in me

Everything remains the same yet she answers not her name still If I could look beyond these skies standing here again before my eyes I'd see

Desiree Desiree
now she's
leaving

Desiree you know
how it hurts me
where do i run to is it real nothing but pain I feel for real

Desiree you know

Desiree
la la la la la
la la la la la
