

I'm Leaving

Mads Langer

I don't need a wire
And I don't need a gun to kill the things you have in mind
No, no, no I fear what you desire
So I am gonna run away
And leave you behind
You might say I'm running in blind
But I've lost my faith in life and death
I've lost my faith in hope and love, it's just deceiving
I've lost my faith in grace and god
I've lost my faith in you and me
So I am leaving
You don't need to listen
Cause you can hear the frequencies
That I'm singing in
No, no, no I don't know what is missing
But the end is here
And there ain't no new beginning
No, no, no I've lost my faith in life and death
I've lost my faith in hope and love, it's just deceiving
I've lost my faith in grace and god
I've lost my faith in you and me
And after the sunset
There will be a sunrise
I want you to wait for it
And after the sunset
There will be a sunrise
I want you to wait for it
I apologize, I apologize, I apologize
But I've lost my faith in life and death
I've lost my faith in hope and love, it's just deceiving
I've lost my faith in grace and god
I've lost my faith in you
So I'm leaving
I'm leaving
I'm leaving
I'm leaving
