

The President Song

Cross Canadian Ragweed

Oh if I were President I'd make you realize no more question's no more lies I'll tell you the truth looking in your eyes
If I were President. Well first and foremost son Jesus Christ is the only one you're gonna talk to when your day begins I'm gonna pass the law that says everyday you gotta get down on your knees and pray thank the man for dyin for you sins. If I were president I'd make you understand Jesus is the man he's the reason that you stand If I were president. We're gonna put the word out on the street no more Washington D.C., I'm gonna make this country big and strong no more payin of your taxes the capitol's in Fort Worth, Texas; thats the only place a house that big belongs. If I were president Nobody's gonna push us around,
Well nobody's gonna laugh when Jason Bolland's my chief of staff
If I were president. Well Iraqi boys you must be nuts your diggin yourself deeper in a rut I got a way to end your problems soon Well we'll bring home every one of our boys pull out our biggest baddest toys and blow you crazy bastards to the moon. If I were president, Nobody's gonna push us around
If they threaten us or put us down we'll burn their country to the ground,
If I were president. Well talk about you Osama bin Laden It won't be long till your name's forgotten America's freedom is always gonna ring
And you know that we wont be satisfied Till your hatred's dead and your people are fried Your head's on a stick and your balls in a sling. If I were president
If I were president Hey one thing you can't deny your sorry ass is gonna die
If I was president Well I got one for you, Saddam Hussein

We'll resurect General John Wayne, and put together a very simple plan, we'll put down our 'nukes put down our guns and you and the Duke'll be 1-on-1 and he'll kick your ass if you were a man.If I were president
If I were president
If you don't like Willie Nelson you gotta go to prision
If I were president
So cast a vote and make it me an' if I win the beer's free
If I were president.
