

The Portal

The Baraness

There's a house down Willow Lane
Just a simple sea-side shack
Through the wind and pourin' rain
She wants you blackThere's a portal on the door
In the evening, comes a draft
From the life we had before
You leftLost in [Incomprehensible]
And all I got's the sense of it
'Cause all I had was youLost down [Incomprehensible]
And all I got's incensed by it
Now don't you go awayThere is nothin' left to say
(I love you so)
There is nothin' left to doThere is nothin' left to make
(I love you so)
There is nothin' left of youI'm in trouble and I do not see the light
There's a problem with my sight
It's a fight to stay alive and it's not fair
You're everywhereCallin' up my past
But they're all gotten tired of me
And all my cryin' spellsTalkin' back to fate
The fate has done expired on me
And you who knew me wellI'm in trouble and my heart is set to fold
There's a problem with my soul
I'm a stone and it's not rollin' half way there
You're everywhereThere is nothin' left to say
(I love you so)
There is nothin' left to doThere is nothin' left to take
(I love you so)
There is nothin' left of youLost on Willow Lane
Our love has turned to tumbleweed
Now don't you blow away

Lyrics provided by
<https://damlyrics.com/>