

In The Real World

The Alan Parsons Project

One more compromise I won't be making
One more easy way out I won't be taking
    So many chances don't come twice
    So many eyes are made of ice
One more cheating hand I won't be shaking
    One more substitute I won't be trying
One more piece of the rock that I'm not buying
    So many times we stand and fight
    So many reasons can't be right
    One more simple truth I'm not denying
Too many lonely hearts in the real world
Too many lonely nights in the real world
    Too many fools who don't think twice
    Too many ways to pay the price
Don't wanna live my life in the real world
    One more sacrifice I won't be making
One more golden rule I won't be breaking
    No one to let me state my case
    No one to tell me to my face
One more sweet surprise I won't be faking
Too many lonely hearts in the real world
Too many lonely nights in the real world
    Too many bridges you can burn
    Too many tables you can't turn
Don't wanna live my life in the real world
Too many lonely hearts in the real world
Too many lonely nights in the real world
    Too many games that I can't play
    Too many windmills in my way
Don't wanna live my life in the real world
Too many lonely hearts in the real world
Too many lonely nights in the real world
Don't wanna live my life in the real world
Too many lonely hearts in the real world
Too many lonely hearts in the real world
Don't wanna live my life in the real world

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>