Personal Touch

David Pomeranz

I know it's been hard
I see how you've cried
I can tell that the jagged edge of the world
Has cut you deep inside
So don't try and hide
There's no reason for your heart to bleed

What you need is a personal touch
A hand on your shoulder
Someone to hold you tight
Someone to kiss you and make it right
What you need is a personal touch tonight

Don't try to be strong
No need anymore
Leave the cool neon signs
And slick bottom lines
By someone's else's door
And you can be sure
By the mornin' your soul will be freed

All you need is a personal touch
A hand on your shoulder
Someone to hold you tight
Someone to kiss you and make it right
What you need is a personal touch tonight

Oh, someone to hold you
Someone to kiss you
And make it right
What you need is
A personal touch tonight
Tonight

I'm gonna hold you
And make it all right
With a personal touch tonight
