

Former Boy Wonder

I Was Totally Destroying It

All the bitter truth
That's the one thing I can offer
I inundate you in the worst of ways
In my Ames room
There's just one thing I remember
That I always had enough space

Through trials and blunders
As a man I'm not enough
You say "boy wonder"
And I'm calling out your bluff

Anyway, back to opulence and self-destruction
And all this shit that's taking up space
I devise to pick this up and start all over
Anything to make you want to stay

Through trials and blunders
As a man I'm not enough
You say "boy wonder"
But I'm calling out your bluff
