Rest Easy

Natalie Walker

One more mile 'til I lay rest
I have put myself through this rigid test
But the mile has never ended, no distance has been gained
I do not see greatness I wanted to obtain
Where is my embrace from the race that I have run?
I have kept a steady pace but still I have not won
Rest easy, have no fear
I love you perfectly, love drives out fear
I'll take your burden, you take my grace
Rest easy in my embrace
I am such a sinner, I fear my evil ways
I fear my imperfection, I fear my final days
I just want to take control and snap this rusty chain
Drop my heavy burden, it seems to be in vain
Rest easy, have no fear
I love you perfectly, love drives out fear
I'll take your burden, you take my grace
Rest easy in my embrace
I am not a bold man even though I want to be
I am just a dreamer with a timid history
Scared of confrontations I fume all through the night
The world has it's hold on me and I just want to fly
The sky, the sky is open wide
But I can't fly 'til I step aside
Rest easy, have no fear
I love you perfectly and perfect love drives out fear
I'll take your burden, you take my grace
Rest easy in my embrace
Rest easy
Rest easy
Rest easy in my embrace
Rest easy
