Change My Mind

John Berry

I don't want to lose you, but even a fool could see
Everyday your love is slippin' a little bit further away from me
So I'll be the one to say good bye 'cause your hearts already gone
Pack my bags take the midnight train unless you say I'm wrongChange my mind, say you couldn't live without me
Say you're crazy about me with a look with a touch
Change my mind, I'm lookin' in your eyes for the love we left behind
It's not too late to change my mindSomethings come between us, it's not another lover
Seems one night we just stopped trying to please each other
If it's really over why can't I walk away
Tell me I'm making a big mistake beg me to stayChange my mind, say you couldn't live without me
Say you're crazy about me with a look with a touch
Change my mind, I'm lookin' in your eyes for the love we left behind
It's not too late to change my mindGive me half a reason to give it one more try
We could leave this leaving behindChange my mind, say you couldn't live without me
Say you're crazy about me with a look with a touch
Change my mind, I'm lookin' in your eyes for the love we left behind
It's not too late to change my mindIt's not too late to change my mind
