

Princess of the Universe (Oblivion Tour) [Live]

Utopia

Well, I want to shake that thing wit'cha all night long
Yeah, you're a princess baby, you can do no wrong
Said you're a beacon of light when the sun is gone
Yeah, you're a princess baby, you can name that song Well, they just couldn't touch you with a ten foot pole
And they just couldn't
You got so much juice, you make the telephone ring
You make me jump right up, I want to shake that thing Wit'cha all night long
You're the princess of the universe
You're a princess baby, you can do no wrong
You're the princess of the universe Well, I ain't seen nothing like it since the Sha got the rope
You got a legion of liggers that would shame the Pope
You just say the word and they run like hell
You gotta take a cold shower, so your head don't swell But you can do no wrong
You're the princess of the universe
You're a beacon of light when the sun is gone
You're the princess of the universe Well, you ain't got a man who can touch what you got
But you're looking for a subject that can fill that slot
When the count is down, I want to step in time
And when your fingers pop, I want to tow that line
