

Agatha Read

The Barmitzvah Brothers

JENNY:

Agatha read stories for girls
Looked at the pages with the golden curls
She brushed her hair, ninety-nine strokes
And she told her folks

GEORDIE:

She told her parents she knew
Schooling wasn't the thing to do
Agatha knew just where
And dreamed of the day that she'd get there

JENNY:

Agatha wasn't the perfect name
To pair up with a charming dame
Sue wouldn't have been as hard
And would look much nicer on a hairdresser's card

GEORDIE:

But unmistakably she knew
Half of what it takes to make it through
She dreamed since she was ten
They'd all look back and remember when

JENNY:

She'd get up with a smile
Agatha had so much style
She stood out from the rest
Agatha was the very best

JENNY & GEORDIE:

Agatha was the one
They hired to get it done
With a charming morning smile
A million-dollar style

Lyrics submitted by Reid Erb.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>