Cluster Bomb Boy

Candypants

The usual party, you stand alone
And you wonder if you'd be better off home
Head on a swivel- who haven't you seen before?
Then your heart skips a beat
You smile when our eyes meet
Soon you're headed my way, pen in hand

But I've got you're number Cluster Bomb Boy
Why do you think I'm so paranoid
Any old girl will do

So you move like a helicopter at night
Cutting through all the murky clouds
Til you light on a lone little target who hasn't seen you before
And once you catch her eye
There's no passing her by Now she's all on her own, in your hands

A girl wants to feel like a queen
You don't know what I mean
Doo doo doo Cluster bomb boy

The usual party ends up at home
Where you wait for the morning to be alone
Head on your pillow-where have you seen it before?

Lyrics submitted by kelly smith.

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/