Listen All You People

Darren Hayes

Listen all you people, all you lonely and deserted
The departed and the broken hearted
I've got time for you
you can call your friends for we're headed on a journey
All the lonely, the mad, all the bad
Hold a sec, got a message for you
Nothing's peaches and cream
Nothing's quite what it seems, they've been lying to you
All you unhappy wives, all you pregnant brides
All you geeks and you queens
All you sick and you poor
All the drunks on the floor, well, I'm calling to you, oh
Listen all you people, all you lonely and deserted
The departed and the broken hearted
I've got time for you
You can call your friends for we're headed on a journey
We've been held down, we've been pushed down
Now we're through
All the freaks, all the queers, all the thumbs
All the steers, well it's time to give in There's crack in the door, it's okay to want more
You've been dying for years

All the races you lost, all the loveless that cost you
The hard earned sleep, all the stifled reactions
The screams you been acting
Like no one can hear you, oh
Listen all you people, all you lonely and deserted
The departed and the broken hearted
I've got time for you
Sending out a message, gotta get to you
Sending out a message, is it coming through?
Sending out a message, gotta get to you
Sending out a message, is it coming through?
Listen all you people
(Sending out a message, gotta get to you)
All you lonely and deserted
(Sending out a message)
Oh, listen all you people, all you lonely and deserted

We've been held down, we've been pushed down
Now we're through
Oh, listen all you people, are you lonely and deserted?

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/