Nothing But You and Me

Yo La Tengo

Well, I don't care what's wrong or right
When you're not there by my side
I just wonder what to do
Well, if I can't have you
And I think about nothing much at all
Nothing but you and me
And I'm pleading can't we just be
The way that we used to beHoney, wake up, won't you please come back to me
Honey, think of, think of the way things used to be
If we make up, well, I won't ever be that bad
Honey, wake up, and give me just one more chance, just one more chanceWell, I don't know how I lost control
But I now know that it's true
That the hurt I aimed at me misfired
And came back to hurt you
I've been wondering where you are tonight
And wondering where you've been
Now I'll walk these lonely streets awhile
And think about it againHoney, wake up, won't you please come back to me
Honey, think of, think of the way things used to be
If we make up, well I won't ever be that bad
Honey, wake up, and give me just one more chance, just one more chance
What can I do? What can I say?
