

Palm Desert

Van Dyke Parks

By Palm Desert to market to buy.
Tenderfoot up to date palms of the real estate.
By Palm Desert springs often run dry.

I came west unto Hollywood, never-never land. Juxtaposed to B.B.D. and O. Beyond San Fernando on hillside manors on the banks of toxicity those below and those above the same.

Dreams are still born in Hollywood I don't understand.
Just suppose the youngster knows he's had a good deal of fortune and up through the babble on the fair banks complicity,
buy your leave or stay beyond the game.

Palm Desert not fade away.
Palm Desert I wish I could stay.
Palm Desert sages abound.
So head your head to the ground round.

Meanwhile in the wild west of Hollywood age is losing hold.
Inasmuch as you are touched to have withheld by the very old search for the truth within the bounds of toxicity.
Left unsung so I have strung the frame.
