

End Of The Beginning

Asobi Seksu

Here we are searching for a sign
Here we are searching for a sign
    It's the end here today
But I will build a new beginning
    Take some time, find a place
And I will start my own religion
    As the day divides the night
Here we are searching for a sign
    Watch the men multiply
See them ease out of the circle
Watch your friends run and hide
Help them fall back in this cycle
    Here we are searching
    You saw what you get
    If you take what you take
    Look in the eye of the test
    It's all because
    Now there's a feeling I get
    When I look to the left
But it should never be sensed
    Our searching for a sign
    Can you feel it?
    Things are changing
    Can you see it?
    Watch as the worlds colliding
Can you see it? Can you feel it?
    Watch as the worlds
    Collide into themselves
    Collide into themselves
    Another time, another place
    Another time, another place
Some paradigm has shunned the race
Some paradigm has shunned the race
    Searching
    You saw what you get
    If you take what you take
    Look in the eye of the test
    It's all because
    Now there's a feeling I get

But it should never be sensed
    Our searching
        You saw what you get
        If you take what you take
        Look in the eye of the test
    It's all because
But it should never be sensed
