Warning Call

DJ Shadow

This is the greatest thing you're ever likely to achieve in your life
Holding up the medals you've won while everyone else is swimming in circles
Working out what happened to everything you learned in school
You don't remember them telling you that it's cool to be youIt's cool to be you when you like what you do and your strong and strong
I'm saying, just saying this is a warning call, a warning callI want to go home I've said too much and I've said it all
It breathed all on its own, its own
There's nothing more to be done so pack up your shows of bitterness
There's a time for heroes and it's not nowIt is the greatest thing you're ever likely to achieve in your life
It is the greatest thing you're ever likely to achieve in your life
I know how to find out everything about you
I know how to find out everything about you
