The Sea

Dirty Mittens

Getting with fear IÂ’m getting cold again
Losing my grip and I slip, now itÂ’s pulling me under
Drowning in my old friend
Cold in the swell I have to keep my nerve
Swallow me whole your control leaves me dead in the water. Dead in the water

The stormy night I washed ashore, I catch my breath and wait for dawn.
I catch my death, IÂ’m back for more.

As the tides they bring me home. (Waves crashing down over me)
Feelings I should leave alone to the ocean (floating to the surface from the blue)
Like the sea as it leaves me cold (waves crashing down over me)
Your spirit has been overthrown and itÂ’s drowning

A moment of wrong, I wonÂ’t be rocked by you
I am the one, I am strong, kept my head above water
Sailing away from you

Your love is like a hurricane
Devastated and racked with pain
I wonÂ’t be scared, IÂ’m not afraid

As the tides they bring me home. (Waves crashing down over me)
Feelings I should leave alone to the ocean (floating to the surface from the blue)
Like the sea as it leaves me cold me home (waves crashing down over me)
Your spirit has been overthrown and itÂ’s drowning
