

Chase the Moon

Escondido

The fog has lifted, darling
The cloud has flown away
I promise that I'll miss you
I'll miss you everyday

But for now I must be going
And for now I'm going to say
Goodbye
I promise that I tried

All these days turn into sunsets
All those tired 'scapes (?) the moon
Babe you've known that I'm far gone
I've been crawling on my knees too long
And soon you'll know that I'll be missing you

Life moved on without us
Without me you'll move on
I'll regret this, baby
By the time you'll be long gone

My regrets are monumental
My future is unclear
I'll go back for you darling
By the time you won't have me there

All these days turn into sunsets
All those tired 'scapes (?) the moon
Babe you've known that I'm far gone
I've been crawling on my knees too long
And soon you'll know that I'll be missing you
Soon you'll know that I'll be missing you
Yeah, soon you'll know that I'll be missing you
