

Circles

Nelly Furtado

The day is getting late Its a lot to take Looking at your face It hides nothing Emotions are recycled I open the window

I dont know about you But Im feeling stifled

Then I get just a glimpse I see where our love is Please look into my eyes Baby you gotta try to

Dial into me Dial into me Dial into me Dial into me

Dont talk in circles

You dont know what to say

How did we get this way

Its like we just press play

And run on automatic (it gets so static) I can barely breathe

Youre filling up with steam

You say its about me

But Im just setting boundaries

Then I see a bright light I see its worth the fight I know well get it right

Baby our love can shine if you

Dial into me

Dial into me

Dial into me

Dial into me

Dont walk in circles

Were after the same things

Bursting at the same seams

I cannot carry the whole load here

No I cant tell you what that means

Im gonna carry my load

If you promise not to take your eyes off me Dont take your eyes off me

Dont take your eyes off me

Lets break the circle
