

Easy Morning Rebel

My Morning Jacket

Well the easy mornin' rebel, well he has come
Come down from heaven, all bathed in sun
He'll take to flyin, he'll take to the road...
As long as he's movin to get dey blood!
He'll be the water if you'll be the wine
Sent down from heaven in this earthly disguise Well the evenin' rebel, his heart is stone
This earthly body...just a temporary home
A dream of movin', moves on through the night
And he sure looks good when he moves in the light
He'll be the water if you'll be the wine.
Sent down from heaven in this earthly disguise Black hearted ruler?
I only knew...that loving moment I had with you
