

There Will Always Be A You

Donna Summer

Like the stars that shine above in a warn and wind tossed love just like tears that fall forever

Like the raven and the dove looking for a perfect love after rainy, stormy weather I am yours and you are mine till the stars fall from my eyes

A ship sailing without end a lost, tired, worm down friend and old broken run down shoe

I keep running back for more,
at least you thought I would be sure but I gave up, I broke it's true still there will always be a you

Don't ask me how

I tried so long and in my heart I know

I will never go away
if you wanted me to stay well in a million years

I wouldn't go

Cause I love you so
yes I do

I love you so

I could never leave you

I love you

don't go away

and old broken run down shore

but I give up, I broke it's true still there will always be a you

till the stars fall from my eyes
I will never go away
cause I love you so
yes I do
can't go away
At night I cry
can't find a reason
can't seem to understand
(Fade)
