Desperation

Uncurbed

In my arms you lie
You're sleeping and you're still
I'm wide awake because I can't take it
And this is how I feel
Set my mind at ease
I'm worried and upset
Well, my front door isn't on anymore
I'll be living with regret
So listen up
And just let the music play
If you listen hard enough
You can hear me say
This is the sound of desperation
This is the sound of me wearing thin
This is the sound of desperation
This is the sound of me wearing thin
You've heard it all before
Now, you'll hear it all again
I never said, I would rather be dead
But I thought about the end
Soon as it's starting over and over
The nights keep blending in
The only way I can get through the day
Is to try to make amends
So listen up
And just let the music play
If you listen hard enough
You can hear me say
This is the sound of desperation
This is the sound of me wearing thin
This is the sound of desperation
This is the sound of me wearing thin
This is the sound
So listen up
And just let the music play
If you listen hard enough
You can hear me say
This is the sound of desperation
This is the sound of me wearing thin

This is the sound of desperation
This is the sound of me wearing thin
This is the sound of desperation
This is the sound of me wearing thin
