Free Me Up

Downhere

I'm giving up my electro TV things
'Cuz I don't ever need, no anything like that again
I'm livin' on the move and
I wanna drop these chains
Well You'd be surprised what I left behind
It keeps me looking upwardYou free me up to live this life
Far from any Earthly sense of home
And there's a place where I belong
But there's nothing here I really own, I really ownDo You deem this to be extreme behavior?
A little bit too ideal
You call it young man's fever
But I've got my treasure stored beyond Heaven's Gates
And You'd be surprised what lies behind them
It keeps me looking upwardYou free me up live this life
Far from any Earthly sense of home
And there's a place where I belong
But there's nothing here I really own, I really own
Nothing here, nothing here, nothing here I really ownAll that you find here, You will lose it
All You find here, You will lose it
All You gain here on Earth, You'll lose in the end
All You gain here on Earth, You will lose it, lose itYou free me up to live this life
There's a place where I belong
But there's nothing here, nothing here I really own
